Seigniory Ski Club

A COLD but by no means hard winter was enjoyed by the Seigniory Club in the Province of Quebec from December to March, inclusive, last. Canadians and Americans foregathered in large numbers at Christmas-New Year's and again on the week-end of Washington's Birthday, and each week-end also throughout the season saw cheery crowds of members and guests of the Club ski-ing, curling, sleigh driving, skating or snow shoeing in the attractive Laurentian property which is controlled by the Club.

Two annual meets—the women's inter-city and the inter-scholastic ski-ing competition involving slalom, downhill and cross-country events—were the principal events on the Seigniory Ski Club's 1936 winter calendar.

Conditions were excellent throughout the winter. Good ski-ing was possible from November until quite late in March. The Valley Farm district, some five miles north of the Log Chateau, was again the scene of the major ski-ing competitions of the season. The club's giant ski jump was temporarily closed during 1936.

The third annual women's meet in January brought more charming skiers and more teams to compete than ever before. The Seigniory Club's inter-city trophy, which is awarded the team of four registering the highest standing in slalom, downhill and relay, went this season to the Ski Club of Montreal, who were the winners here in 1934. Their crack team included Misses Alice MacFarlane, who also took individual honours elsewhere during the season, Dorothy Michaels, Emma Benning and Evelyn McKenna, all of Montreal. Miss Alice MacFarlane was first in the downhill, her time being 1 minute 6.2 seconds; in second place was Peggy Johannsen of another number one skiing team, the Penguin Ski Club of Montreal, who ran the course in 1 minute 6.6 seconds. Ski Club of Montreal also annexed third and fifth places in this event.

Toronto Ski Club skiers made a grand showing in the slalom race, taking first and third places. But the strong Penguin team, who are experts at slalom, were first in the final team standing for this event. Miss June Merrill, a newcomer from Toronto Ski Club, ran the stiff course in 1 minute 47.8 seconds, followed by Francoise McNichols of the Penguins, in 1 minute 51.8 seconds.

The five-mile relay, starting at Valley Farm House, and ending at the Log Chateau's hospitable doors, went to the Penguin Ski Club team, who won the trophy here last year. Their combined times were 49.05 minutes. Not far behind were the Ski Club of Montreal team with 49.46 minutes.

The final team standing, with point percentages, was:—1st, Ski Club of Montreal, 297.10; 2nd, Penguin No. 1 Team, 295.77; 3rd, Toronto Ski Club, 274.25; 4th, Penguin No. 2 Team, 267.10; 5th, Ottawa Ski Club, 266.03; 6th, McGill Ski Club, 240.63; 7th, Park Toboggan & Ski Club, 177.14.

The second annual inter-scholastic competition, the Selwyn House and the Newman House Meets, brought schoolboys of all ages to ski at the Seignior Club, whose sports department has done much during the past few years to foster the sport among juniors and also in the local village of Montebello.

The inter-scholastic event in March brought teams representing many Ontario and Quebec high schools and colleges. Honours went again to the Seignior Club of Ottawa, who were the victors here in 1935, for their combined standing in slalom, cross-country, and downhill events. The team included Bob Hammond, Al Kuhns, Francis Heggveit and Bob Hitchman, all of Ottawa. The individual honours of the meet went, however, to a Montreal schoolboy who is already the Dominion of Canada's champion ski jumper and holder of two provincial titles. "Punch" Bott, skiing for Montreal High School, placed first in the downhill and slalom events. It was disappointing not to have the big Seignior Club hill available for the youthful champion, as his jumping has improved considerably since his last performance here. Bob Hammond of Ottawa, who is one of the best all-round junior skiers of the district, won the cross-country event in 32 minutes 37.6 seconds, D. Bishop, a schoolmate, placing second with 33 minutes 50 seconds. D. Hall of Lisgar Collegiate, Ottawa, placed second in the downhill, registering a time of 1 minute 25.2 seconds to Bott's run of 1 minute 21 seconds. Al Kuhns of the winning team was second in the slalom race with 1 minute 32 seconds, Bott having run the courses in 1 minute 29.6 seconds.

The combined team standing was as follows:—1st, Glebe Collegiate Team No. 1, 296.05; 2nd, Lisgar Collegiate, 289.07; 3rd, Montreal High Team No. 1, 280.12; 4th, Glebe Collegiate Team No. 2, 274.07; 5th, Montreal High School Team No. 2, 220.67; 6th, Hawkesbury High School, 201.74.

The Common Trophy for slalom racing and the Mackenzie Trophy for downhill running were competed for again this year by Seignior Club members. Tom Somerville of Montreal won the first and Edward Deems, Jr., of Forest Hills, L.I., the downhill.

Curling is another Seignior Club activity of first class importance. The major bonspiels, played at the Seignior Club annually, brought together a record gathering. The men's competition for the J. I. Rankin Trophy in February was won by Outremont Curling Club of Montreal and the women's bonspiel for the W. B. Sewell Trophy later in the month was won by Rideau Curling Club of Ottawa. An innovation in curling here was the mixed bonspiel, in which teams of men and women players competed. It was won by Royal Montreal Curling Club.
